ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE GLOBAL ALLIANCE ON HEALTH AND POLLUTION (GAHP)

GAHP members, observers and other interested agencies, including representatives of low- and middle-income countries are invited to join GAHP for its annual general meeting on 3rd December 12:00 - 15:00, Conference Room 1.

The meeting will set out GAHP's focus for 2018-2020, and detail how countries can prioritize solutions, including through the GAHP-assisted Health and Pollution Action Planning process. Join us to learn more about GAHP and its activities!

Contact Rachael Kupka (Rachael@pureearth.org) or visit www.gahp.net for more information, including how to join virtually via GoToMeeting.

GAHP was formed in 2012 in response to the growing crises posed by toxic pollution. With more than 50 members from multilateral development banks, bilateral donors, UN agencies, low- and middle-income country government agencies, and others, GAHP aims to provide low-and middle-income countries with the tools to tackle toxic pollution and alleviate its impacts on human health.
